

Silly Girl (Featuring Joe Scudda)

Murs & 9th Wonder

You know what?
Yeah, the lil', lil', lil' stuff between your legs ain't gon' keep me
And neither is you callin' me every five minutes
Like you need to know what, what I be doin' I'm at where I'm at and I'ma be where I'ma be
And that's about all you need to know
And you need to use your inside voice when you talk to me
'Cause all that raisin your voice with me in front of your friends In the car and your cell phone and it, it, it's not hot, it's not cute
It's not gettin' you anywhere and it's about to get you fired
So, calm it down She thought that makin' me wait was the way to get me hooked
Now fellas, we all know the oldest trick in the book
What you do you wait around, waitin' 'til she breaks down
One day at the crib, she gon' let you break ground
Soon found out she was so real wit it
One year, no love, man, who would deal wit it?
Me, I fell for it, romancin', financin'
A couple years back I woulda told you there was no chance in hell But, oh well, here I was That's how it be when you're fallin' in I wouldn't say that, maybe it was Them trips to the gentleman's club, oh well That got me feelin' I was givin' but I wasn't gettin' back
Man, that story 'bout that cow and that milk ain't a fact
'Cause if you wait too long, the milk goes sour
And I like my love hot, no more cold showers so Silly little girl, simple little girl
You didn't want me when I wanted you, you
I'm on to other girls, I don't want you in my world
And there's not a single thing that you can do, do
You're playin' on my phone and you won't leave me alone
I think it's finally time for you to get a clue, clue
You told all your friends about the time we used to spend Now I'm 'bout to run it all throughout your crew, crew Ooh, I called Pam, you know the one that always liked me
You tried to tell her that I had the drip, just to spite me
But she didn't buy it, guess what, was down to try it
And we did a lot more than kiss, I can't deny it I took her to the Hyatt, tie her to the [Incomprehensible]
And took Tasha to the Hyatt, oh yeah, I went there again
And starin' in my windows is just not hot Always thought you was a freak, never knew you liked to watch And I'ma call the cops next time you come to my job
And my new girlfriend, she from the hood, she down to squab
And when she take out them earrings, crunch time, punch time

Believe me, I know, let me tell you 'bout this one time I came home late, didn't call, wait that's not the point

She gets another fight, she's goin' back to the joint

So, don't waste her time, we both know you can't fight

Now quit hidin' in them bushes and go home, goodnight Silly little girl, simple little girl

You didn't want me when I wanted you, you

I'm on to other girls, I don't want you in my world

And there's not a single thing that you can do, do You're playin' on my phone and you won't leave me alone

I think it's finally time for you to get a clue, clue

You told all your friends about the time we used to spend

Now I'm 'bout to run it all throughout your crew, crew Yo, I knew this silly chick was diggin' me

I said I had a girl but if you keep it on the low

Then you can get with me, see, I done switched the game up

Now she ask when I'ma leave her

You know the answer last time that came up Why you keep stressin', just keep undressin'

This a headache I swear, I never learned my lesson

Told myself about these undercover dealings, why?

'Cause these silly chicks end up always catchin' feelings And what I'm 'sposed to do

When a late night freak in the Jeep end up gettin' a lil' close to you

Close to who, close to me?

Nah, my lil' thing on the side, this ain't how it's supposed to be Supposed to hit it, quit it, hit it again

Chill for a while then flip it again

But she started actin', crazy, I split to the end

She told the girls how I get down, now I'm hittin' her friend Silly little girl, simple little girl

You didn't want me when I wanted you, you

I'm on to other girls, I don't want you in my world

And there's not a single thing that you can do, do You're playin' on my phone and you won't
leave me alone

I think it's finally time for you to get a clue, clue

Now I'm 'bout to run it all throughout your crew, crew
