

Shelter

Broken Bells

Your mind is in touch now, baby
Or losing hard in a broken world
It's like an imaginary girl
It shimmers you in your dream then leaves you cold
All my life, a place to return to Something to hold on
Asking you now
Do you still remember All of those moments you gave me shelter
Out of the swelter, out of the sun
Into an ocean, under the high tide
Howling by your side
Until the morning comes
Until the morning comes
I want to your untie your tongue, girl
I want your love to send me right
I got myself in a world of trouble
And I can't run so I guess I'll fight
For your love, the one thing I return to Holding so tight, I'll put it to you now
For you consideration All of those moments you gave me shelter
Out of the swelter, out of the sun
Into an ocean, under the high tide
Howling by your side
Until the morning comes
Until the morning comes All through the night
So long, side by side
Oh, and my heart keeps falling
One more for the ride
Somehow always in time
And my heart keeps falling
All of those moments you gave me shelter
Out of the swelter, out of the sun
Into an ocean, under the high tide
Howling by your side
Until the morning comes
Until the morning comes