Man On the Moon

Phillip Phillips

Oh, oh, yeah Oh, oh, oh yeah

Oh, oh, oh yeahI watched the world from the side of the moon Looking at the stars looking back to you

Just to see if you were still alive

Looking at the sun with the fire in your eyesIt's hard to know where I stand

Even the man on the moon

couldn't tell me where to land

But I wanted to fly in the sea

With no gravity to pull me down

Hold on it won't take long

You can find yourself if you decide to finally start

Don't look to me when you fall

'Cause the steps get bigger so go ahead and walk them off

And you know how I feel

So don't let your life start to slowly waste awayOh, oh

No, noSo tell me this one thing, now listen to me close

You steal from me, but you call it your own

You liar, you thief

Go make your stand on your own two feetSo whoa now, whoa now

Listen what your friends say

Go now, go now

Go and do it that way

I'm the one you want to believe

But in your heart you can't see

Hold on it won't take long

You can find yourself if you decide to finally start

Don't look to me when you fall

'Cause the steps get bigger so go ahead and walk them off

And you know how I feel

So don't let your life start to slowly waste awayOh, let it fall

Let it fallHold on it won't take long

You can find yourself if you decide to finally start

Don't look to me when you fall

'Cause the steps get bigger so go ahead and walk them off

And you know how I feel

So don't let your life start to slowly waste away

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/