On Purpose

Sabrina Carpenter

Your eyes

Crashin' into my eyes

Was I accidentally falling in love?

Your words

—Didn't mean to heal the hurt—

Were coincidentally more than enoughAll these days I never thought

That I would need someone so much

Who knew?

But I don't think I ever planned

For this helpless circumstance

With you

You're scared, I'm nervous

But I guess that we did it on purpose, on purpose, on purpose

Baby, I know it's weird, but it's worth it

'Cause I guess that we did it on purpose, on purpose, on purpose

But I guess that we did it on purpose

But I guess that we did it on purposeMy dreams running into your dreams

It's as if we wished on the same star

And my time changing all of your time

It's a butterfly effect on my heartAnd all these days I never thought

That I would need someone so much

Who knew? (who knew?)

But I don't think I ever planned

For this helpless circumstance

With you

Oh, woah

You're scared, I'm nervous

But I guess that we did it on purpose, on purpose, on purpose

Baby, I know it's weird, but it's worth it

But I guess that we did it on purpose, on purpose, on purpose

On purpose

But I guess that we did it on purpose

But I guess that we did it on purposeLost in darkness

You're my focus

Love me hopeless

But I guess that we did it on purpose

Lost in darkness

You're my focus

Love me hopelessOh, you're scared, I'm nervous

But I guess that we did it on purpose, on purpose, on purpose

Baby, I know it's weird, but it's worth it

'Cause I guess that we did it on purpose (on purpose, on purpose)Lost in darkness

You're my focus
Love me hopeless
But I guess that we did it on purpose
Lost in darkness
You're my focus
Love me hopeless
But I guess that we did it on purpose
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/