

Congratulations

Rachel Platten

I'm stupid and confused
My ego's raw and bruised
Your words were weapons, and they tore me down again
Play our conversation
You threw your accusations
I'm always so complacent
I never change the station Help me find a sharper knife
I need to cut you out my life
I take it all, I let it slide
But hey, you went too far this time
Congratulations got what you wanted, your winning now
Congratulations you got your shot, and you wore me down
And I really don't think you get it now
No, I really don't think you get it now
It's killing me I admit it now
Congratulations, you tore my heart out
Congratulations You must feel good digested to be so damn aggressive
But the pounding in my chest is begging for protection
You think you're innocent, pure gold and heaven sent
But my tears are instruments, they sound like consequences Help me find a sharper knife
I need to cut you out my life
I take it all, I let it slide
But hey, you went too far this time
Congratulations got what you wanted, your winning now
Congratulations you got your shot, and you wore me down
And I really don't think you get it now
No, I really don't think you get it now
It's killing me I admit it now
Congratulations, you tore my heart out
Congratulations Save me from myself 'cause I need somebody's help
Yeah, I dig the deepest wells, and I get lost
You, you got it all I guess
And me I'll take the fall for this Help me find a sharper knife
I need to cut you out my life
I take it all, I let it slide
But hey, you went too far this time Congratulations got what you wanted, your winning now
Congratulations you got your shot, and you wore me down
And I really don't think you get it now
No, I really don't think you get it now
It's killing me I admit it now
Congratulations, you tore my heart out
Congratulations

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>