

Pick You Up

Kevin Ross

Standing there looking at the man in the mirror
It's hard to make a change when you're so far gone
Feeling like your dreams couldn't be any further
But you're doing what you gotta do just to keep the lights on Praying hard, don't let it rain
But it won't let up no way
Won't be long, cuz we've all seen brighter days
You're not alone, cuz I'm just one call away
So don't forget when life brings you down
It won't last forever
It's just for now
Everything will turn back around
So you don't have to stay on the ground
I'll pick you up
I'll pick you up
Feeling like you got the whole world on your shoulders
You try to walk with it, but you stumble and fall again
Out here on your own thinking nobody loves you
And you wouldn't be mad if you didn't wake up the next day
But you're praying hard, til your knees don't feel a thing
And your smile, won't fool this masquerade
If there's a God, why won't he help me through the pain
The reason why is to make us stronger men
So don't forget when life brings you down
It won't last forever
It's just for now
Everything will turn back around
So you don't have to stay on the ground
I'll pick you up
I'll pick you up
I'll pick you up
I'll pick you up
I'll pick you up
