

Moon

Sufjan Stevens, Bryce Dessner, Nico Muhly & James McAlister

Jackrabbit jumped with a generous mood
Offering himself on the fire for food
Touched by his virtue, the fortune approved
Outlining ears on the fortress moon
As I'm about to enter your world
As I'm about to enter your world
I give you light Some say the crane was the call for two Stretched by the weight as her legs withdrew
Carrying the chariot, the rabbit assumed
Washing her face with the redheaded hubris
As I'm about to enter your world
As I'm about to enter your world
I give you blood
