

Nobody Lost, Nobody Found

Cut Copy

Always crashing to the ground
Always from the same height
Always falling down
And if you start a fashion now
Make me a believer
The seas will part somehow Staring at a silver sun
I'm blinded
I can see you almost in my town
Nothing but a sea of blue
Separating seasons
And I think of you
Burning in the face of love
Burning in the face of love Walking through a paper town
Counting all the reasons to burn the others down
Seems like every chance I take
Brings me ever closer to being far away Black out
Keep your colours dim
So nobody can see you
And let the ghost back in
Leave me heading to the ground
Always from the same height
And always falling down Burning in the face of love
Burning in the face of love
Burning in the face of love
Burning in the face of love
(Falling
I'm Falling
Falling
I'm Falling
Falling
I'm Falling
Falling
I'm Falling)(Building
Building
Building gone
Building bones are hard to hold
Mould is forming on the ground
Nobody is lost
Nobody is found)(Building
Building
Building gone
Bulging bones are hard to hold

Mould is forming on the ground
Nobody is lost
Nobody is found) Burning in the face of love
Burning in the face of love
Burning in the face of love
Burning in the face of love

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>