

Pay No Mind (feat. Passion Pit)

Madeon

She was dancing, she was smiling
Roses blooming on her cheeks
In a quiet kind of litany she accepted some defeat
And then she twirled into the arms
Of disgrace and then repelled
Now she's fallen to her knees
But you couldn't ever tell And then she asks me how we got here
I told her I don't know
And if you keep on asking
I'll just keep saying so
This isn't what I wanted
It isn't what you need
Oh, let them keep on talking
Just calm yourself and breathe
Don't you pay them any mind
Don't you pay them any mind
You know this happens every time
Don't you pay them any mind Where the burdens of her mother
Weigh like sandbags on the eyes
As she closes just to open as the sirens whirling by
And now she's off to tell a secret
To a friend somewhere in town
And her friend just takes a moment
And asks why I'm not around Darling, this is something I should've told you long ago
I just want you to feel safe, I just want to make you glow
Oh, how you glowed when we were young
And with nothing on our minds
But each other, one another and we had nothing then but time
And then she asks me how we got here
I told her I don't know
And if you keep on asking
I'll just keep saying so
This isn't what I wanted
It isn't what you need
Oh, let them keep on talking
Just calm yourself and breathe Don't you pay them any mind
Don't you pay them any mind
You know this happens every time
Don't you pay them any mind Why do we have to go through this everytime
Some days you hear it
Some days you don't
Sometimes you feel it

Sometimes you won't Just calm yourself and breathe Don't you pay them any mind
Don't you pay them any mind
You know this happens every time
Don't you pay them any mind
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>