

Good Intentions

Toad the Wet Sprocket

it's hard to rely on my good intentions when my head's full of things that i can't mention seems i usually get things right but i can't understand what i did last night it's hard to rely on my own good senses when i miss so much that requires attention have to laugh at myself sometimes and i can see that i'm not blind there's little relief
give us reprieve
for all the things i've left behind i'm positive that i'm not blind i'm not afraid things won't get better but it feels like this has gone on forever you have to cry with your own blue tears have to laugh with your own good cheer
there's little relief
give us reprieve
imagining the world outside
i can't be hard on you
'cause you know i've been there too learned a lot of things from you but life gives little relief
give us reprieve
and when everyone is cold as ice i clench my fists and close my eyes imagining the world outside but i can see that i'm not blind
