

A Deathless Song

Parkway Drive

Let me beat in your heart
Be your drum of war and love
Let me hide in your arms
Be my cage, my key, my lock Let our bones collide
Until the light falls like anvils from our eyes
When our dreams ignite
Disappear in their fire Be my deathless song
Fill my aching lungs
Breathe your life into me
Because I drown in your shadow
Like salt in the rain
If my fear is tomorrow
Your memory's the fight in my veins Let me beat in your heart
Be your drum of war and love
Let me hide in your arms
Be my cage, my key, my lock Let our bones collide
Until the light falls like anvils from our eyes
When our dreams ignite
Disappear in their fire Be my open sky
Fill these wild eyes
Breathe your life into me
Because I drown in your shadow
Like salt in the rain
If my fear is tomorrow
Then your memory's the fight in my veins
Because I drown in your shadow
Like salt in the rain
If my fear is tomorrow
Then your memory's the fight in my veins
