

The Unforgettable

Colours

You became my ghost fading as my mind grew old so I replace you but I find I would learn but never know them without you still feels like alone you, oh
you you are the one I want
you, oh
you you are the one
the one I want-I wish I always had had you known what I know I know the unforgettable the sun over your skin I would breathe you in no more now I feel you in my bones feel you everywhere I go having all but you is having none at all
you, oh
you you are the one I want
you, oh
you you are the one
the one I want-I wish I always had
had you known what I know
I know the unforgettable
had you known what I know
I know the unforgettable
all that I ever want all that I ever dreamed what I couldn't say it pushed you away when I had you in front of me
all that I ever want was nothing I ever showed I traded fear for the unforgettable
you, oh
you you are the one I want
you, oh
you you are the one
the one I want-I wish I always had
had you known what I know
I know the unforgettable
had you known what I know

I know the unforgettable

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>