

Hello My Old Heart

The Oh Hellos

Hello my old heart
how have you been?
Are you still there inside my chest?
I've been so worried,
you've been so still,
barely beating at all.
Oh, don't leave me here alone,
don't tell me how we've grown
for having loved for a little while.
Oh, I don't wanna be alone,
I wanna find a home
and I wanna share it with you.
Hello my old heart,
it's been so long
since I've given you away.
And every day
I add another stone
to the walls I built around you
to keep you safe.
Oh, don't leave me here alone.
Don't tell me that we've grown for having loved in a little while.
Oh, I don't wanna be alone.
I wanna find a home
and I wanna share it with you.
Hello my old heart
how have you been?
How is it being locked away?
Don't you worry, in there you're safe
and it's true you'll never beat,
but you'll never break.
Nothing lasts forever,
some things aren't meant to be,
'cause you'll never find the answers,
until you set your old heart free,
until you set your old heart free.
Hello my old heart.
Hello my old heart.
