King of Tragedy

Susanna Hoffs

Released on 'susanna hoffs' (1996)She's a cross between Emma peel Gwyneth paltrow And kathy lee She's got a boyfriend He's twenty-three She won't give him up I can't set him free. And still he means the world to me If only I could make him see If only he'd be good to me But he's the king of tragedy, oh oh.He calls me on the phone He needs another loan Gonna lose his home He lays it all on me And I feel so guilty Wanna tell him no But he always tricks me Into letting go.And still he means the world to me If only I could make him see If only he'd be good to me But he's the king of tragedy, oh oh.Oh, come back to me, yea yea. We used to call you Johnny fun Isn't that ironic After all you've done But the door's still open The way is clear When you get it together I'll be here. And still he means the world to me If only I could make him see If only he'd be good to me But he's the king of tragedy, oh oh. You and me that's all I ever wanted Can't you see you're all I ever wanted You and me it's all I ever wanted Can't you see you're all I ever needed, oh oh.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/