

God

Phora

Yeah, look

Pops told me this life is way too short for you not to live in the moment

Made a few mistakes in my time, but I'm still growin'

Embracin' all these feelings these people are scared of showin'

I'm showin' you all my pain in my story, the book is open

It's real

Every chapter in my life is a lesson

But the girl I gave my heart to, we've been losin' connection

She ain't realize that she was a blessing

We just lost in a world, driftin' apart, we never had no direction

See, I'm losin' all my patience lately, I've been tryna pray more

She said, "You always leave when I need you, I wish you'd stay more."

Dyin' to feel alive, you holdin' on to your pride

I used to be the one you'd run to, what you walkin' away for?

Look, why can't we just be real with each other?

Instead of hatin' each other, let's start healin' each other

Are we really scared of love or just scared that we'll never find it?

I need you, and I'm done tryna hide it

So r u still—

R u still down for me?

R u still down for me?

R u still down for me?

R u still down for me?

Oh yeah

R u still down for me?

R u still down for me?

R u still down for me?

R u still down for me?

Oh yeah

R u still down for me? R u still down for me?

R u still down for me?

We all need someone to talk to

Dealin' with the pressure of the world, all the shit we had to go through

She livin' life in the fast lane, in the fast lane tryna roll through

Aye, we all feel low sometimes, we all need someone to talk to

Yeah, we all feel low sometimes, we all need someone to talk to

Dealin' with the pressure of the world, all the shit we had to go through

She livin' life in the fast lane, in the fast lane tryna roll through

Aye, we all feel low sometimes, we all need someone to talk to

Yeah, we all feel low sometimes

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>