

Roads

Chris Mann

There are roads in this life
That we are traveled,
There are scars and they are battles
Where we road.
When we are lost,
Oh, wherever we may go
They will always lead you HOME! There are roads, that have lead me to another to a friend or to a lover,
I have known.
For every turn,
Is it year that I have grown
As I walk among these ROADS.
Summer long in sun or weather
Some will lead you through a storm.
When you've gone a strain
you will find your way
As you walk among these roads. There were times
When I stumbled and I wondered But every choice and every step, I don't regret.
'Cause I have lived and I have loved like no other
I won't feel what lies there. Summer long in sun or weather
Some will lead you through a storm
When you've gone a strain
you will find your way
As you walk among these ROADS.
There are roads in this life
That I have traveled,
There are scars and they are battles
This road!
I was lost, but no matter where I go
They will always lead me HOME!
They will always lead me HOME!!

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>