

Reckless Love

Bleachers

I could use a bad disguise to guard me on the darkest nights I keep finding my way to the harshest words I got a strange, strange vision of a reckless love Whoa, standing in world of my own they call it reckless love, whoa, whoa So give me a chance to remember what I've given up to defend ya I would burn my dreams away just to stand in the thankless shadows of your reckless love Whoa, standing in a world of my own
they call it reckless love, whoa, whoa Get out, stand back
if you don't let go, you're gonna break me, and you get out, stand back
if you don't let go, you're gonna break me, and you
get out, stand back,
if you don't let go, you're gonna break me, and you
get out, stand back
if you don't let go, you're gonna break me Whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa
So give me a chance to remember
what I've given up to defend ya that I burned my dreams away to stand in the broken shadows
of your reckless love
your thankless love your restless love a thankless love your reckless love's a thankless love
