Kindness

Ryan Adams

If you're so kind Can you let down your hand Can you let down your hand If you're so kindIf you're so strong Can you shelter the weak Will you listen as the strangers speak Bring them calmKindness don't ask for much But an open mind Kindness can cure a broken heart Honey, are you feelin kind Do you believe in love Do you believe in love If you're so kind Can you let down your hand Will you try and understand When it goes wrong Days come and gone And it's been said and been done I will shelter you with my love And my forgivenessKindness don't ask for much But an open mind Kindness can cure a broken heart Honey are you feelin kind Do you believe in love Do you believe in love Kindness don't ask for much But an open mind Kindness can cure a broken heart Honey are you feelin kind Do you believe in love
