

Endless Dream (feat. Poe)

Conjure One

It's all coming, it's all coming
It's all coming, it's all coming, it's all coming, it's all coming
It's all coming back to me now
That strange and almost endless dream
Where I was you and you were me
You opened up your eyes and I could see
That you were falling from the world
As aimless as a shooting star
In all that around me thinking
I was somebody else
And terrified to look at me and
See yourself, well...
You and I could dream
And I am just a trip you are on
When the trip is over
You will go back to the places that you once belonged
You will look for comfort there
And when you do you'll find that it has gone
That is when you'll dream a dream
Where I am you and you are me
And then you'll know my love
So don't be afraid
Your heart is in me and it's racing so fast now
'Cause everything we ever were or ever will be
Is shapeless as a changing cloud
Your letter written on the sky
I need you now to read it through my eyes
When you see just what I see
And tenderly
Watch it change and just let it be
'Cause I am like a dream
And you are just a trip that I am on
When the trip is over
I will go back to the places that I once belonged
And I will look for comfort there
And when I do I know it will be gone
That is when I'll dream a dream
Where I am you and you are me
And then I'll know your love
So quiet...
Now...
We are the ... same
This is just some trip that we are on
When the trip is over we will think of this
As someplace that we once belonged
When I find no comfort here

I'll look again to find it in your arms
That is where I'll dream a dream
Where I am you and you are me
And that's where I know love
