

Au Revoir

OneRepublic

Today I'm not myself
And you, you're someone else
And all these rules don't fit
And all that starts can quit What a peculiar state we're in
What a peculiar state we're in Let's play a game
Where all of the lives we lead, could change
Let's play a game
Where nothing that we can see, the same
We'll find other pieces to the puzzles
Slippin' out under the locks
I could show you how many moves to checkmate, right now
We could take apart this life we're building
And pack it up inside a box
All that really matters is we're doing it, right now
Right now (Instrumental)
We'll find other pieces to the puzzles
Slippin' out under the locks
I could show you how many moves to checkmate, right now
We could take apart this life we're building
And pack it up inside a box
Right now
