This Momentary

Delphic

We, you and me what is said
Wasn't never meant to hurt
Real stories always come off worse
Can we make the time to leave it behind
And reshape, remake our faith in what we see? How you feel so unsteady?
I'm already out of reach

Remember finding your feetIn a fine time, take the time to find me
I'll be ready waiting let's do something real
Lets do something realWe, you and me what is said

Wasn't ever meant to hurt

Real stories always come off worse

Can we make the time to leave it behind

And reshape, remake our faith in what we see?

How you feel so unsteady?

I'm already out of reach

Remember finding your feetIn a fine time, take time to find me I'll be ready waiting let's do something realLet's do something real

Let's do something real

Let's do something realReal something, real something

Real something, real something

Real something, real something

Real somethingLet's do something

Real something

Real something

Real something

Let's do something

Real something

Real somethingLet's do something realWe, you and me what is said

Wasn't never meant to hurt

Real stories always come off worse

Can we make the time to leave it behind

And reshape, remake our faith in what we see? How you feel so unsteady?

I'm already out of reach

Remember finding your feetIn a fine time, take the time to find me I'll be ready waiting let's do something real

Lets do something real
