

Ultraviolet Light

Ryan Adams & The Cardinals

This is the silence so nobody understands Ice ocean leaves the ships just sliding and Clouds forming, lightning shooting from its hands
Skies on fire, make a wish and use it quick, my friend Come on, come on, come on, let's go, it's getting darker
Come on, come on, come on, come on, let's go
Come on, come on, come on, before my wish expires
Something bad is on the horizon shining ultra-violet light
I see you hover and oblivious to it
The laws of nature don't apply, don't apply to her
No wonder that the world came to an end
There was another on the other side, inside her head so Come on, come on, come on, let's go, it's getting darker
Come on, come on, come on, come on, let's go
Come on, come on, come on, before my wish expires
Something bad is on the horizon shining ultra-violet light
Slow violence only radiates the sand
Delete your messages and come on, come on, come on Ultra-violet light's the best way in Don't wake up the monsters on my head, tip-toe, they're sleepin' in Come on, come on, come on, let's go, it's getting darker
Come on, come on, come on, come on, let's go
Come on, come on, come on, before my wish expires
Something bad is on the horizon
This was the wish, this was the wish I made
This was the wish, this was the wish I made
This was the wish, this was the wish I made
This was the wish
Now here comes the light
Now here comes the light
Here comes the light
