

Tell Me in the Morning

Cold War Kids

 speak about Greenly
 now that she's gone take my time when I go to bed and I sleep, Lord I'm getting over rolling over
 I said can you just wait to tell me in the morning?slow it down slow it down
 lay it low
 save it for the morning I know that you would like like to change me
 make me softer
tune your voice like a baby I'm using caution
 bet you wanted
 I wish you could wait
to tell me in the morningslow it down
 slow it down
 lay it low
 save it for the morning I shouted questions
 like a fierce fire
you tried to take me by the arm into the light I'm almost over
 rolling over
 I said could you just wait
to tell me in the morning?slow it down
 slow it down
 lay it low
save it for the morningand i'll tell you one more thing I confess to self deception pull the lock and pry it open they're pretending to be stolen I am my own thief in the nightstruck up for mnay years just to get here between the humility
 and be my own teacher I guess it backfired
 'cause my motive

was just to take and never kept that way I guess slow it down
slow it down
lay it low
save it for the morning I shouted questions
like a fierce fire
you tried to take me into your arms and lead me to the light I'm almost over
rolling over
I said could you just wait
to tell me in the morning? slow it down
slow it down
lay it low
save it for the morning and I'll tell you one more thing I confess to self deception
pull the lock and pry it open
they're pretending to be stolen
and I am my own thief in the night

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>