

We're All Going Down

Butch Walker

Burnt to a crisp I cant sleep from the sound of the train of thought inside of me I grab the keys and the clock it starts to smile 5 in the am feel so surreal where the red lights are friends with the automobiles and they just want you to stop and say hi for a while cuz they just want to be heard and act like they're better than everyone else or not to say lower so laugh when they cry
jump when they're down
smile when they frown
we're all going down.
we're all going down
laugh when they cry
we're all going down.so take another hi-five from a zombie who walks into a bar straight out of a movie cuz 10 dollar drinks are the highlight of his week and all of the kitty cats get out their catty kits sit and they talk shit bout this bitch and that bitch and makes me feel a little better about me cuz they just want to be heard
than everyone else or not to feel lower so laugh when they cry
we're all going down.
we're all going down laugh when they cry
we're all going down.cuz they just want to be heard

we're all going down.
