

Fire

Sara Bareilles

door clicks
while his wheels start spinning on the pavement and i go fill the space up where he has been staying won't lose much sleep he never went that deep "Love you, oh, you sweet thing," no, I never said that let me hold your ego while you get your bag packed don't take this the wrong way but when the spade shows up i call it by it's first name we were, we were never gonna catch fire we'd've burned up in the flames long before the higher someday I, I won't have to feel the cold but i do now
so i'll know what it feels like when feel fire, fire mm, fire
mm, fire
talk, touch, kiss, bend, this one's just like others and i know all too well that i won't beat the waters i held my breath to swim the shallow shores aren't safe enough to dive in
we were, we were never gonna catch fire
we'd've burned up in the flames
long before the higher
someday I, I won't have to feel the cold
but i do now
so i'll know what it feels like when feel fire, fire that comes and stays fire on blood and veins fire i've only ever wanted, fire in my chest, in my mouth, on my tongue, in my mind in my soul, so my lungs can breathe in fire
we'd've burned up in the flames
long before the higher
someday I, I won't have to feel the cold
but i do now

so i'll know what it feels like when feel fire, fire Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>