

Jenny Drinks

The Interrupters

Jenny Drinks!
Everything in the kitchen sink
'till she's all messed up and she can barely think Jenny Cries!
And then she sighs, so suprised
She wipes the teardrops from her eyes cause she's on the brink
I say the world just ain't ready for a spirit like me!
I never been so frustrated with humanity!
And I suppose that I'm the one who seems crazy!
But the world just ain't ready for a spirit like me!
Jenny Smokes!
Untill she chokes, she's flat broke
And he loans her 50 buck for a black coat
Jenny laughs!
She fight back, to show her back
In her condescending weakness she'll react
I say the world just ain't ready for a spirit like me!
I never been so frustrated with humanity!
And I suppose that I'm the one who seems crazy!
But the world just ain't ready for a spirit like me!
I say the world just ain't ready for a spirit like me!
I never been so frustrated with humanity!
And I suppose that I'm the one who seems crazy!
But the world just ain't ready for a spirit like me!
Jenny waits
She evaluates what gemma said
She's a sin although you know she likes to sing
She don't budge
She don't judge, she's for a love
At the very least she's always interested
Come on the world just ain't ready for a spirit like me!
I never been so frustrated with humanity!
And I suppose that I'm the one who seems crazy!
But the world just ain't ready for a spirit like me!

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>