Foreigner's God

Hozier

She moved with shameless wonder

The perfect creature rarely seen
Since some liar brought the thunder
When the land was godless and freeHer eyes look sharp and steady
Into the empty parts of me
But still my heart is heavy

With the hate of some other man's beliefsAlways a well dressed fraud

Who wouldn't spare the rod

Never for meScreaming the name of a foreigner's God

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

The purest expression of grief

Wondering who I copy

Mustering some tender charm

She feels no control of her body

She feels no safety in my armsI've no language left to say it

But all I do is quake to her

Breaking if I try convey it

The broken love I make to herAll that I've been taught

And every word I've got

Is foreign to meScreaming the name of a foreigner's God

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

The purest expression of grief

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

The purest expression of griefScreaming the name of a foreigner's God

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

Screaming the name of a foreigner's God

The purest expression of grief

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/