

Somehow Our Love Survives

Joe Sample

When circumstance invite us
I always close my eyes My thought retrace the image of your face somehow our love survives Now we're in our prime and it's once upon a time
Paper lanterns hanging in the trees The photograph is framed
But the feeling's still the same I'm there for you and you're always there for me after the hero stumbles
after the lady cries
after the fortress tumbles
somehow our love survives
somehow our love survives Each time we touch each other the chemistry revives
Each kiss contains an energy exchange
Somehow our love survives Now we're in our prime
and it's once upon a time
Paper lanterns hanging in the trees The photograph is framed
But the feeling's still the same
I'm there for you
and you're always there for me After the hero stumbles
After the lady cries
After the fortress tumbles
Somehow our love survives...music... uuh. Now we're in our prime
and it's once upon a time
Paper lanterns hanging in the trees The photograph is framed
But the feeling's still the same
I'm there for you
and you're always there for me After the hero stumbles
After the lady cries
After the fortress tumbles
Somehow our love survives After the hero stumbles
After the lady cries
After the fortress tumbles Somehow our love survives Somehow our love survives
