

Friends

Bridget Kelly

"Friends" I wanna follow, follow you into this room,
But I'm afraid of what comes
What about tomorrow, morrow
We're bringing trouble every time that we touch And ohh I burn for your love
And ooh you burn for my love
What is this doing to us?
Ooh ooh ooh ohh If we surrender to love
We'll sacrifice what it was
What is this doing to us?
If we cross the line that's how it begins
We becoming lovers no longer friends
Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again
If we cross the line that's how it begins
We becoming lovers no longer friends
Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again
Don't want no sorrow, sorrow
No matter how much y
This can't be borrowed, borrowed
No matter how much that we want to return And ohh I burn for your love
And ooh you burn for my love
What is this doing to us?
Ooh ooh ooh ohh If we surrender to love
We'll sacrifice what it was
What is this doing to us?
If we cross the line that's how it begins
We becoming lovers no longer friends
Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again
If we cross the line that's how it begins
We becoming lovers no longer friends
Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again
Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again Wooh wooh Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again If we cross the line that's how it begins
We becoming lovers no longer friends
Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again
If we cross the line that's how it begins
We becoming lovers no longer friends
Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again Baby we cannot start over again, over again, over again
