

SUBURBIA

Troye Sivan

The sun sets longer
Where I am from
Where dreams go to die
While having fun The boys fix their cars and
Girls eat it up
Loving's so good when
Love is young Yeah, there's so much history in these streets
And mama's good eats
Oh Wonder on repeat
So much history in my head
The people I've left
The ones that I've kept
Have you heard me on the radio?
Did you turn it up?
On your blown-out stereo
In suburbia, ah-ah
Could be playing hide and seek from home
Can't replace my blood
Yeah, it seems I'm never letting go
Of suburbia, ah-ah
Swallow nostalgia
Chase it with lime
Better than dwelling
And chasing time Missing occasions
I can't rewind
Can't help but feel
I've lost what's mine Yeah, there's so much history in these streets
And mama's good eats
Oh Wonder on repeat
So much history in my head
The people I've left
The ones that I've kept
Have you heard me on the radio?
Did you turn it up?
On your blown-out stereo
In suburbia, ah-ah
Could be playing hide and seek from home
Can't replace my blood
Yeah, it seems I'm never letting go
Of suburbia, ah-ah
They always say that nothing ever changes
Through the new lines that are on their faces

Yeah, they all say that nothing ever changes
Through the new lines that are on their faces, oh Yeah, there's so much history in these streets
And mama's good eats
Oh Wonder on repeat
So much history in my head
The people I've left
The ones that I've kept
Have you heard me on the radio?
Did you turn it up?
On your blown-out stereo
In suburbia, ah-ah
Could be playing hide and seek from home
Can't replace my blood
Yeah, it seems I'm never letting go
Of suburbia, ah-ah

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>