

Feels Like Home (feat. Ina Wroldsen)

Sigma

when i'm lost in the crowd, standing in the rain. and the cost of my crown is a heavy weight when i'm cold and alone, smothered by the night you're the only one, who can make it right and i know how i'm supposed to feel you're the one who keeps me real whenever you look at me oooh
it feels like hooome
it feels like hooome
when i'm lost in the middle
all is forgiven
you shine a little light and it feels like hooome nah ah ah ah eh oh when i wait by myself, envisioning your face and when heaven and hell is the same place when my feet is so far from the ground, i forget to breath when i need to get down, you're my gravity
and i know how i'm supposed to feel
it feels like home
it feels like home
all is forgiven
