

The Walls (feat. Fabolous)

Mario

If the walls were watching
If they could see your face
I'm sure that they'd be talking
And I know what they'd say They'd say damn that girl is going crazy
Damn that girl she's amazing
Touching moaning never seen you like this baby
Never seen you this way She don't act the same
When the lights go down
She don't act the same
She be screaming out loud She don't act the same no no no
Just when I thought I had her figured out
'Cause in the day she's a lady
But now everything's changed, she don't act the same
If the walls were watching
If the walls were watching If your friends could see you
If they could hear your screams
Would they recognize you
How shocked would they be, oh damn Damn that girl she's amazing
Damn that girl going crazy
Touching moaning never seen you like this baby
Never seen you this way 'Cause she don't act the same
When the lights go down
She don't act the same
She be screaming out loud She don't act the same no no no
Just when I thought I had her figured out
'Cause in the day she's a lady but now everything's changed
She don't act the same
Excuse me your honor
I'm calling a witness
If y'all don't believe me
The walls are my witness They done seen things in the wall of the business
So the neighbors know my name
They might even know you came
Over the house late last night Woke up wanted more of what I ate last night
I love them quiet girls, want it but deny it girls
Them "boy you crazy
But fuck it we can try it" girls 'Cause she don't act the same
When the lights go down
She don't act the same
She be screaming out loud She don't act the same no no no
Could of sworn I had her figured out
In the day she's a lady

But now everything's changed
She don't act the same If these walls were watching
If these walls were watching

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>