This Sky

The Derek Trucks Band

Sad, sad lover Being true Falling out a window For the view All of us laugh How many of us sing? This sky where we live Is no place to lose your wings So love, love, love Lose your body And your mind And the bitter Taste of time All of us cry While we should be dancing This sky where we live Is no place to lose your wings So love, love, love Fly, fly away Do you remember? All of us sleeping How many of us dream? This sky where we live Is no place to lose your wings So love, love, love
