

Eleanor Put Your Boots On

Franz Ferdinand

Eleanor, put those boots back on
Kick the heels into the Brooklyn dirt I know it isn't dignified to run
But if you run, you can run
To the Coney Island roller coaster
Ride to the highest point
And leap across the filthy water
Leap until the Gulf Stream's brought you down
Oh oh ohhhh
I could be there when you land
I could be there when you land
I could be there when you land
Ah ah ah
La la la la la la, la la la
So, Eleanor, take a greenpoint three-point Turn towards the hidden sun
You know you are so elegant when you run
And, if you run, you can run To that statue with the dictionary Climb to her fingernail and Leap yeah take an atmospheric
Leap and let the jet stream set you down
Oh oh, oh
I could be there when you land
I could be there when you land
Could be there when you land La la la la la la, la la la So, Eleanor, put those boots back on Put the boots back on and run and run
Oh come on over here
Oh come on over here
Oh come on over here Uhhhhhh

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>